Dedication

Throughout our high school years, we, the Senior Class of 1960, have had a great friend and advisor to guide our steps and to give her time unselfishly to the training of our minds. Her patience and understanding have been of more help than all the knowledge that we have acquired while traveling the highways of school life. For these and so many other innumerable reasons, we dedicate this, The Oak of 1959, to MRS. EDNA CLAPP.

SCHOOL SONG

Here's to dear McLeansville High School
Faithful, true, and brave
With her colors blue and gold
May they ever wave
Here's to her walls that round her stand
Protecting her always
With her spirits never dying, she will never fail.
For it's rah, rah, McLeansville
High
Rah, rah, McLeansville High
Rah, rah, McLeansville High
rah, rah.

Our Last Will and Testament

Four years and thousands of classes ago our happy group entered high school. We were engaged in a great proposition that some day we would be seniors. Now we are met in our senior homeroom to decree this our last will and testament.

To ol' M. H. S. we leave the dust from our shoes and the cobwebs from our brains.

To our principal, Mr. Horney, and all our teachers we leave our gratitude for guiding us over the rough roads of high school.

To Miss Essa we leave an annual which we hope she has enjoyed sponsoring.

To the Juniors, who we know can never take our place, we leave the few privileges we had and our debts we may not have paid.

To Mrs. Clapp, we leave one wrinkle and two more gray hairs, and our thanks for directing the senior play.

We, Ercell Robertson and Ronald Boyers, do bequeath our superlative of "Most Likely to Succeed" to Nancy Sears and Woody Fryar.

We, Barbara Stanley and Howard Butner, do bequeath our superlative of "Most Athletic" to Helen Paisley and Ed Hill.

We, Bessie Sheppard and Horace Underwood, do bequeath our superlative of "Biggest Flirts" to Helen Edmonds and Joe Starr.

We, Ellen Latham and Virgil Tuttle, do bequeath our superlative of "Best Dressed" to Reita Anderson and David Crabtree.

We, Shirley Meyers and Stephen Cobb, do bequeath our superlative of "Most Studious" to Dorothy Gerringer and Voight Michael.

I, Ruby Brown, do bequeath my superlative of "Most Attractive" to Sylvia Gerringer.

I, Linwood Ward, do bequeath my superlative of "Best Looking" to J. C. Tuttle.

We, Sandra Denny and Robert Gannon, do bequeath our superlative of "Most Courteous" to Marian Register and Kenneth Murrell.

We, Phyllis Lindley and Wallace Andrews, do bequeath our superlative of "Best All Round" to John Terry and Emily Huckabee.

We, Bonnie Anderson and Rudy Starr, do bequeath our superlative of "Cutest" to Jean Starr and Kenneth Butler.

We, Mary Dawson and Colin Wyrick, do bequeath our superlative of "Most Dependable" to Sylvia Greeson and Ronald Dudley.

We, John Nix and Charles Porter, do bequeath our superlative of "Biggest Pests" to the ones who deserve it, Sammy Anderson and Franklin Waite.

Fantasy

It is now 1970 and it just so happened that two of us who had graduated from McLeansville in 1960 chanced to meet at the Mayfair Cafeteria in Greensboro where we had stopped to have lunch. Since neither of us had been back to McLeansville for some time we decided to go back together to see how many of our graduating class we could find.

We visited the school for the first thing. The building all looked the same and Mrs. Clapp, Mr. Harris, Miss Essa, and our former teachers were still there. However, there was a new addition to the staff. Ronald Boyers was teaching mathematics.

It seems that we picked the perfect time to visit, for everyone of our classmates were at their homes or visiting their parents. Horace Underwood surely looked handsome in that Air Force uniform. He is a second lieutenant now, you know.

Bonnie Anderson is a combination housewife and secretary. Virgil Tuttle is a very promising young doctor. Did you see his lovely nurse? Why it is Ercell Robertson.

That good-looking Linwood Ward is now president of a very large corporation in Greensboro. Stephen Cobb is a State Forester with his office in town. His secretary is none other than Barbara Stanley.

Ruby Brown, we hear, received an offer from Hollywood immediately upon her graduation from the dramatics school directed by Phyllis Lindley, a young sophisticate now. Ruby, by the way, received the "Best Actress" award this past year.

Another McLeansville student we can be proud of is Bessie May Sheppard. She is now starting her world-wide tour by singing at the new supper-club in Greensboro which is owned and operated by Charles Porter. She arrived in town on a T. W. A. Airline piloted by John Nix. Guess who his stewardess is! None other than our own Ellen Latham.

Robert Gannon owns the largest farm in the country and produces most of the produce for Colin Wyrick's chain of grocery stores.

Sandra Denny surely looks good now. We learned that she had just graduated from Union Theological Seminary and that she is going to start to work as Director of Religious Education in the First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro.

Howard Butner, we were proud to hear, is coach at Greensboro Senior High School. We wish for him the best of luck on his new job.

Mary Dawson now owns a good dancing school, and is known for the new dance she originated. Rudy Starr surely showed them at this year's "Darlington 500." How Many trophies does that make? And the chances are that he will win Saturday.

Wallace Andrews, we hear, has a job as a government engineer. We wonder where Wallace will be sent this year?

As for us who are writing this fantasy, I, Reid Campbell, have been writing now for several years. My latest book, The Mystery of the Lost Key, is my tenth best seller within five years. This fact I am very proud of, since I did have to struggle so hard in English when in high school.

And I, Shirley Meyers, am now director of nurses at the North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston Salem. I am really enjoying my new job.

Class History

As we, the Seniors of 1959-60, look back upon our past school life, we remember that bright September morning when we first entered school. We were a group of bewildered six-year-olds who were coming to McLeansville School for the first time. Many of us, with tears in our eyes, were holding tightly to Mother's hand; while others were bravely setting out alone on this great adventure.

Although we tiny little tots were afraid, we were soon comforted by our first grade teachers, Mrs. Della Dick and Mrs. Mildred Smathers, who met us at the door with a smile.

During our second year Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Tucker guided us on our way. This year we were glad to have John Nix join us.

Miss Gertrude Rule and Mrs. Daisy Holt welcomed us into the third grade. Although we lost John Nix, we gained Ellen Latham.

During our year in the fourth grade, Mrs. Cora Clapp and Mrs. Daisy Holt welcomed us and two new students, Ercell Robertson and Ronald Boyers joined us.

The smiling Mrs. Parks and Mr. Watts made our adventure in the fifth grade very pleasant. Stephen Cobb and John Nix joined us this year.

Mrs. Salters and Mr. White welcomed us as a group of over-anxious sixth graders.

Finally we made it! We were in Junior high! Mrs. Margaret Freeze guided our steps that year. Virgil Tuttle was the new member of the class; however, we lost Reid Campbell.

A group of noisy teenagers entered the eighth grade. Mrs. Ianthia LaMarr and Mrs. Carolyn Ervin struggled with us. A new member of our group was Horace Underwood; we lost Virgil Tuttle.

Our long-cherished dream had now come true! We were Freshmen! The faculty was composed of Mr. Z. L. Bowden, Miss Marie Essa, Mrs. Edna Clapp, Mr. R. F. Hicks, Mr. E. A. Adams, Mrs. Eunice Whisonant, and Mrs. Verna Dare Avery. Our schedules were filled to the brim with lessons, sports, and club activities. Phyllis Lindley and Virgil Tuttle joined us this year.

Finally, we earned the title of Sophomores. Charles Porter became part of our class this year, although we lost Phyllis Lindley. Miss Marie Essa, Mrs. Edna Clapp, Mrs. Verna Dare Avery, Mr. E. A. Adams, Mr. R. F. Hicks, and Mr. Alex Larson were our instructors for this year.

Then the day came. We were Juniors! Immediately we began to rush and run for there were many things that had to be done. We ordered our class rings and received them in December. Under the direction of Mr. Edward Robbins, Jr. our Junior play, "I'm a Family Crisis," was indeed a success. With the help of Mrs. Evelyn Raper and Miss Marie Essa we planned the Junior-Senior Banquet, which was held at the Plantation Supper Club. Ruby Brown and Phyllis Lindley joined us this year.

Finally we had achieved our goal. We were SENIORS! Shirley Meyers and Reid Campbell were welcomed as new members of our class, which made us twenty-three strong. An order was made for our invitations, caps and gowns, and diplomas. The annual staff, under the direction of Miss Essa, worked hard to publish an annual of which, we, the Seniors, would be proud. Mrs. Clapp struggled with us through our Senior play "Susie the Siren." This year we really enjoyed the Junior-Senior Banquet because we were the guests.

Now we are stepping away from our school life, and we will be going our separate ways. We know that the experiences of our school life will always be stepping stones, no matter what our goal may be, or in what direction we may travel.

That big boy leanin' over so far is goin' to fall in the ice cream box and break his fool neck.

Time for a drink, if the supply will last.

What's the matter with them- you'd think someone was taking their picture or somethin'.

They're not hogs--they just don't have the time to eat right.

Between classes,--how did so many people get in that little hall?

Behind the scenes at lunch.

Last minute check in the office.

Shots

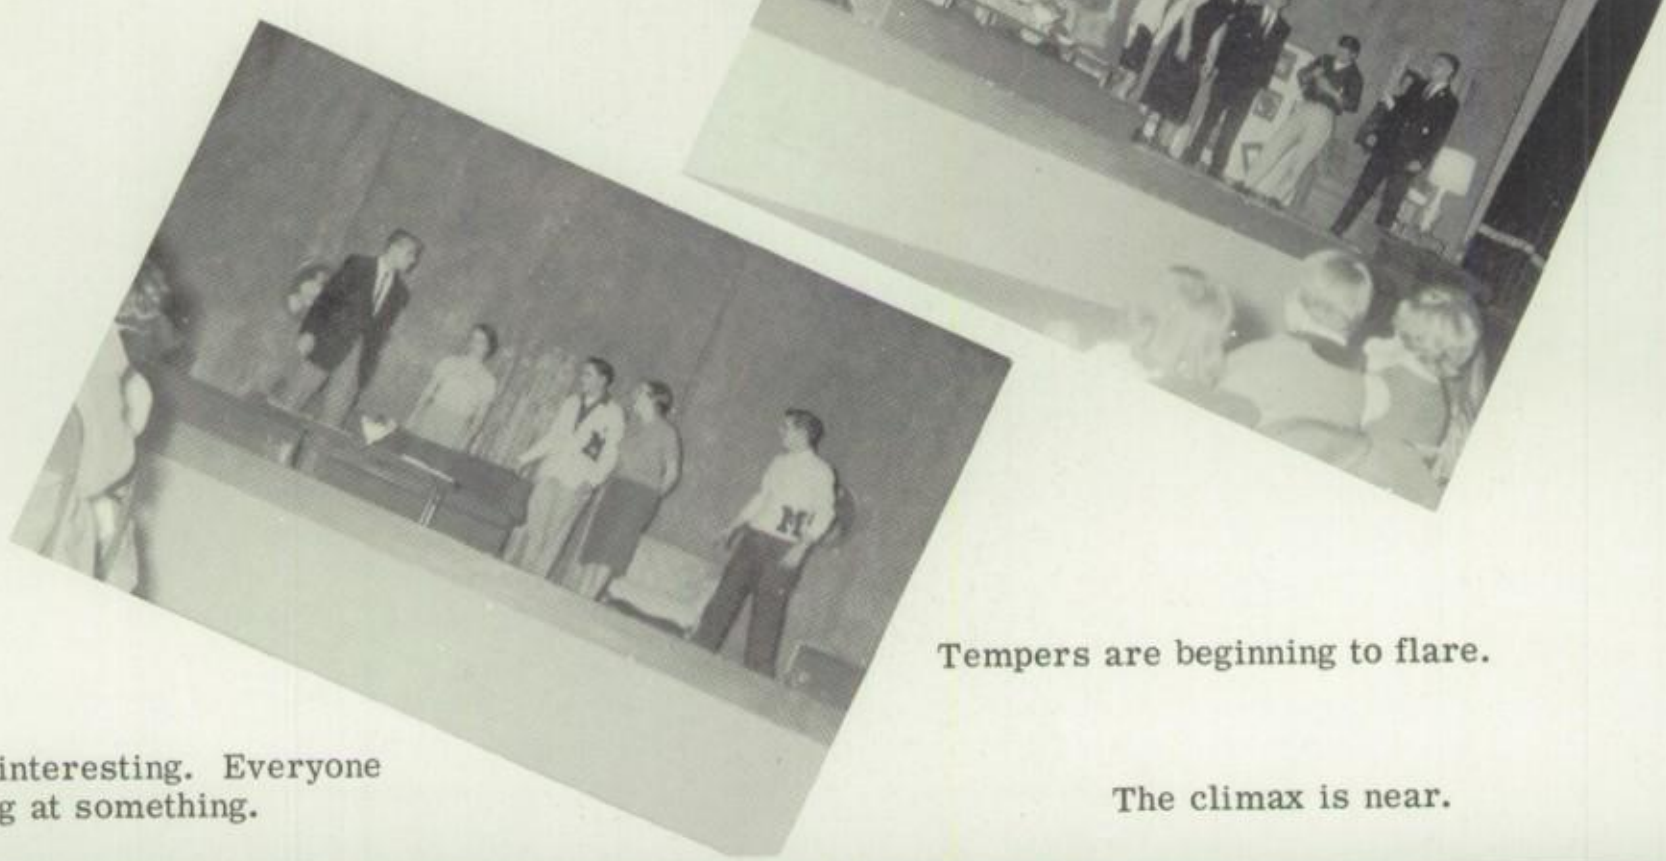
Don't push! Shove gently.

Presentation of the orchid to Mrs. Clapp, our director, at the Senior play.

Gosh, I thought I'd never get through.

"Pasting up," before the big moment.

The Senior Play--What a bunch.



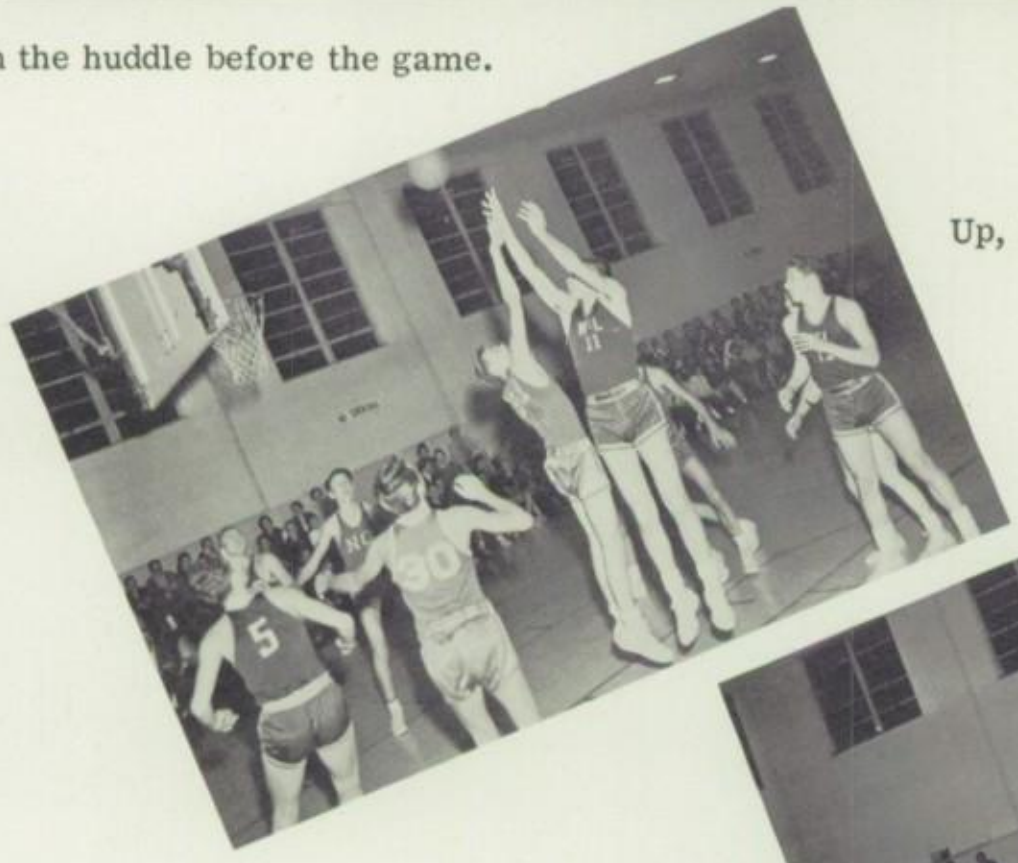
Tempers are beginning to flare.

Must be interesting. Everyone is looking at something.

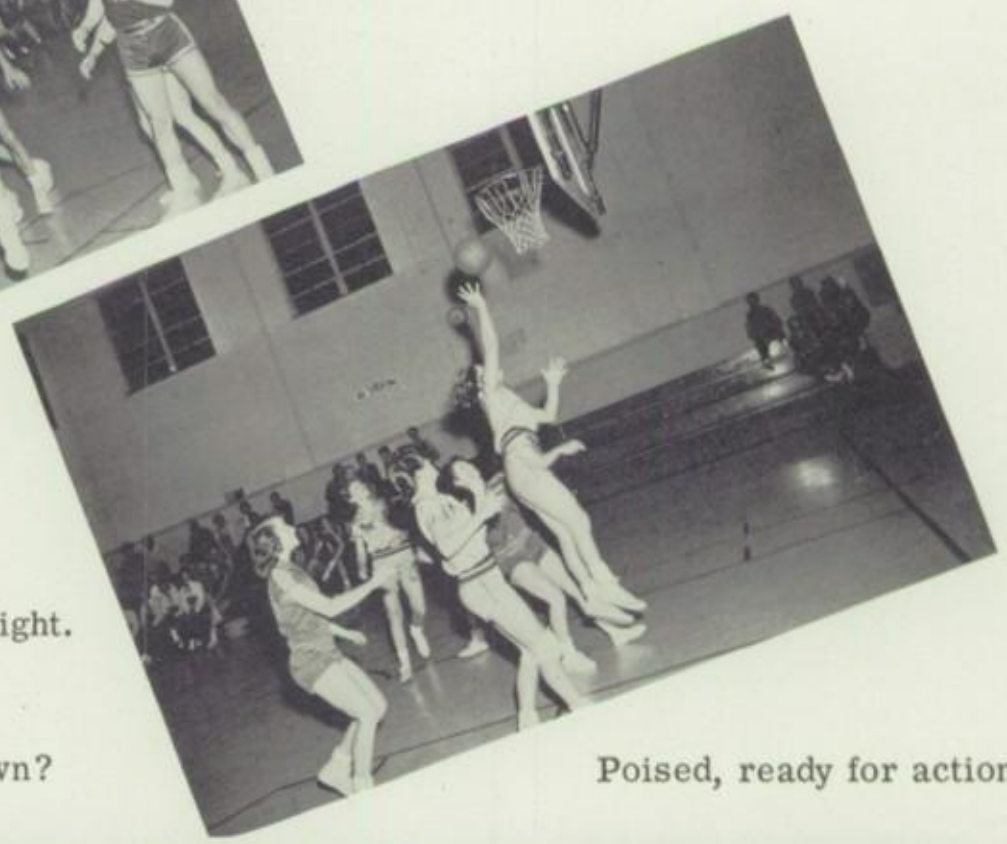
The climax is near.

In the huddle before the game.

Whoops! Where'd it go?



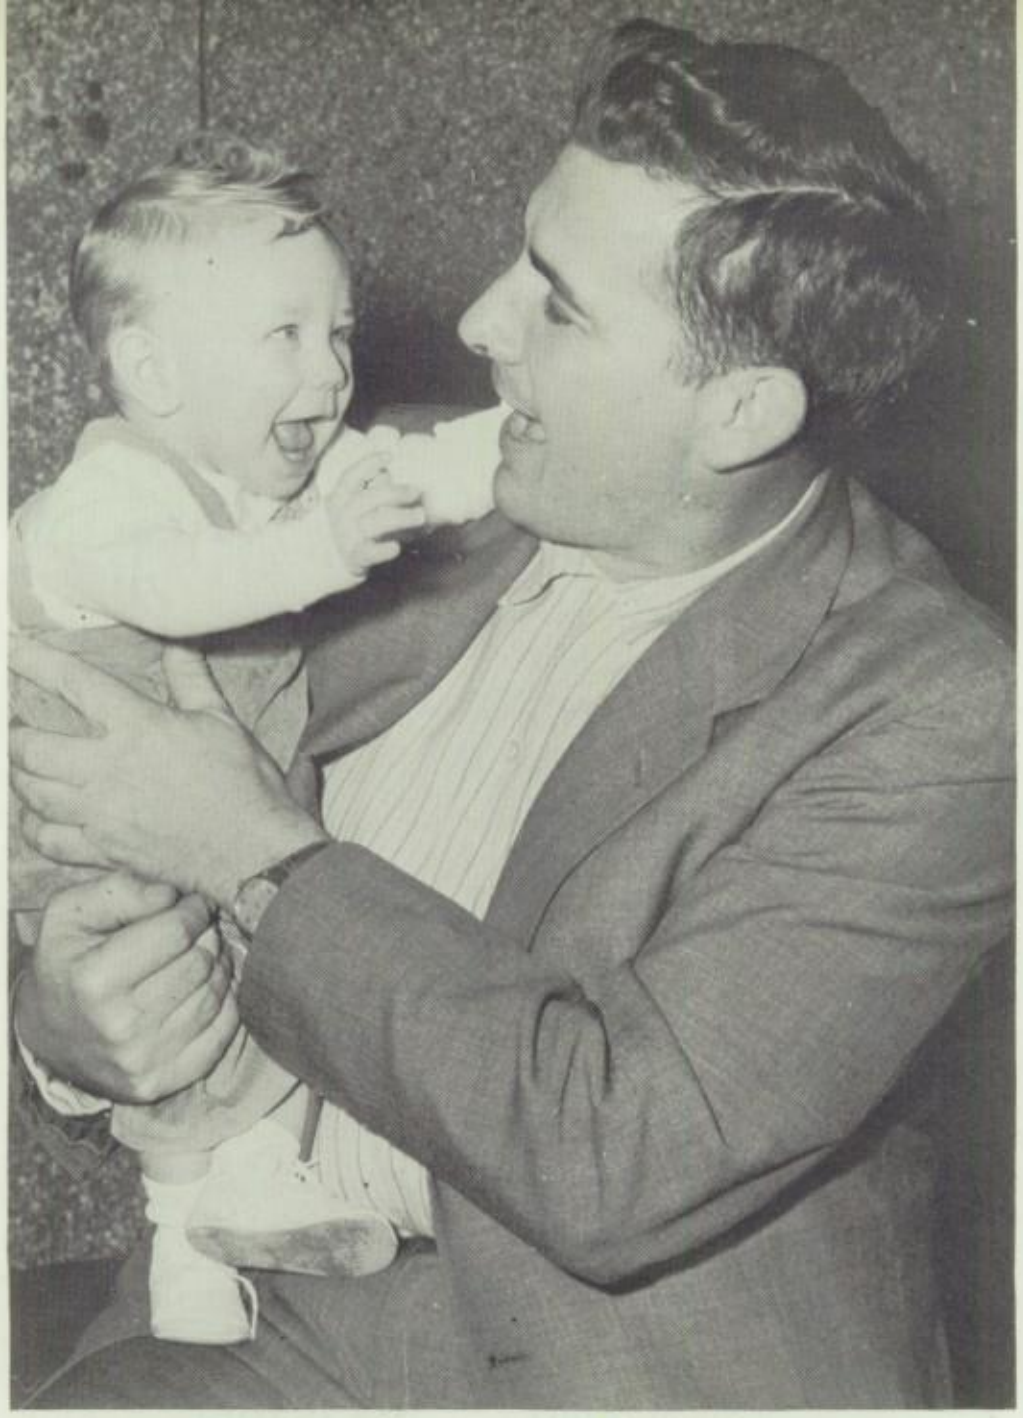
Up, Up, and In!



Looks as if everyone's jumpin' high tonight.

Is that ball goin' up or comin' down?

Poised, ready for action.



Present and future principal of our high school.

"I lost something. Oh, there it is."
